

MANAGER OF REGULATORY AFFAIRS

Desirée Wolfgramm
Energy Northwest

“Women offer different opinions and views that need to be heard and sometimes would not otherwise be addressed. Girls and women in STEM are invaluable for what they bring to an organization.”

From her childhood in the performing arts to her education in mechanical engineering, Desirée Wolfgramm is a true renaissance woman. Now, as the Manager of Regulatory Affairs at Energy Northwest, she works to ensure that nuclear energy is produced safely and responsibly — all while inspiring kids to pursue engineering.

FUN FACT: Desirée grew up doing musical theater and is still passionate about the arts. In particular, she loves to play the piano!
