

WELDER

Tatum Parsley
Clark College

“It’s amazing how fast [my students] pick up the skills. I love watching them be excited about something that I’m very passionate about.”

-Tatum Parsley

#ShelsSTEM

After high school, Tatum Parsley took a welding course and began a 17-year career in the industry. Now she is an Instructional Weld Tech at Clark College.

FUN FACT: Tatum creates metal art out of recycled car parts and tools. Her first project was a giant lotus flower.

